

ALKOOMI

Riesling (black label)

Tasting Notes:

Lifted orange blossom, lime zest and hints of musk. Intense flavors of lime juice and pink grapefruit. Bright, sherbety and lively on the palate with a lingering mineral acidity and slight powdery texture.

Production Notes:

The Riesling from our estate grown fruit was harvested over 12 days in the early hours of the morning in late March. The free run juice of each parcel is fermented separately. The resulting wine is a fine-tuned blend created from parcels including the original planting of 1971, through to a block of Geisenheim clone, planted in 2003.

Cellaring:

Whilst ready to enjoy now, this wine will gain in complexity over the next eight to ten years.

About Alkoomi:

Family run and operated vineyard in Frankland River, Western Australia. The original 1220 hectare property was purchased by Sandy's grandparents, Vic and Netta Lange, in 1946 and initially operated as a mixed grain and livestock farm. It was grandma Netta who chose the name "Alkoomi" for their rugged property, on land over two million years old – a local Aboriginal word meaning "a place we chose".

Reviews:

95 - Decanter

Alkoomi's logo is the unique and distinctively Australian grass tree, Xanthorrhoea preissii, which flourishes on the property.

Frankland River Facts:

- Frankland River is home to eight wineries.
- The region has a cool, Mediterranean climate and a long warm growing season.
- Frankland River's remote location makes it an outstanding region to find value-for-money high quality wines.
