Best's Great Western 1868-vine Pinot Meunier 2019. "It's one thing to have seriously old vines, planted in 1868 by Henry Best, and quite another to have them metamorphose into a contemporary wine full of harmony and balance. Well here it is in all its beauty. Heady with florals aplenty, an array of Middle Eastern spices and mint with a delicacy on the palate, yet there's substance and detail too. A wine of finesse and elegance. Respect." – 97 points, James Halliday, 10x dz available.
