About Prometheus:

A hand crafted range of single vineyard wines made by an eclectic group of friends. These varieties are often found in Mediterranean climates, but are perfectly suited to the Riverland. With a hands off approach to the winemaking and emphasis on fruit purity, they're certain you will love drinking them as much as they loved creating them. Wines like these are best enjoyed with friends, family and food.

Cellaring:

Drink now through 2026.

Riverland, once known solely as a reliable region only for bulk wines, is having a renaissance with Mediterranean varietals.
